Purpose: Developing and Using Criteria

Task:
Students will critically analyze the stories in the Wisconsin Biographies collection to develop criteria for selecting a story for the series, and then use the criteria to choose a new person and write a biography or create a video.

Materials:
Animated videos and books/ebooks from WisconsinBiographies.org
Developing Criteria worksheet (attached)

Directions:
1. As a class, watch all videos in the Wisconsin Biographies series.
2. Create a list of common facts and themes presented in the videos, as well as a list of details about what made the videos fun to watch. Record on the Developing Criteria worksheet.
3. Analyze the lists to develop criteria for choosing a new story for the Wisconsin Biographies series. Criteria may be:
   - historical: effect on people, environment, etc.
   - personal: interesting life story, models personal characteristics like bravery, etc.
   - literary: strong theme, surprise ending, etc.
   - media related: dramatic, funny, strong audio, etc.
4. Using the criteria developed, have students choose a historical person to add to the series. Each student or team will either write a biography or create a video and present it to the class. During the presentation, students will describe how the story meets each of the criteria.

Optional:
- Have the class develop a rubric based on the criteria; use it for self/peer evaluation during presentations.
- Instead of watching the videos, students can read the biographies in order to complete the activity.
